

Prisoner's transitions: Roma and Romanian prisoners finding their way back into society

Prof. Ioan Durnescu
World Congress on Corrections
July 14-16, 2015
Los Angeles

The research

- Aim – to develop an advanced understanding of the re-entry process from the prisoner's perspective

'man is an animal suspended in webs of significance he himself has spun' (Geertz, 1973:5)

- In two locations: Romania & Norway
- With both: Romanians and Roma.
- Data collection:
 - Questionnaires
 - In-depth interviews – prior, after one week, after one month, after three months, after six months, after one year
 - Observations
 - Scale – problems, hope, citizenship
 - Photo